To Play Continuous Music

Dean Holmes Gives Late Permission To Girls On Campus

Jimmy James and Charlie Kehrer and their bands will provide continuous music tonight for the first two-band campus-wide dance ever held at UK.

The dance will be held from 8 to 12:30 p.m. in the Blue Grass Ballroom of the SUB.

Tickets may be obtained from all SGA members, and are on sale at the ticket booths in the SUB and the Campus Bookstore for $2.00 per couple. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold at the door.

Girls Granted Late Permission
Dean Sarah B. Holmes has granted 1 a.m. permission for all women's residence halls and sorority houses.

James, nationally known band leader and clarinetist, is one of the busiest performers on WLW and WLW-T in Cincinnati. He has been with the station since 1930, when he completed a tour of Europe as a member of Hal Kemp's band.

Shortly after coming into radio work, he developed his "rhythm against the strings" orchestra, an innovation which eliminated the saxophone section. Many of his shows were on national hookups and featured such stars as the Mills Brothers, Red Skelton, and the late Fats Waller.

James' Daughter To Sing
James' daughter Judy is vocalist with the group.

Charlie Kehrer and his orchestra will alternate with James' group. Kehrer's orchestra is known as "Society's Favorite Orchestra." He has played engagements at Coney Island, Moonlight Gardens, and Castle Farm. He has also played for numerous society and convention dances, such as the Cincinnati Charity Ball.

Kehrer is now doing television appearances on WLW-T.

Latest Figures Show Enrollment At 5264

Latest figures on enrollment at UK show 5264 students are enrolled on the campus, with 251 students at the Northern Extension in Covington and 141 at the College of Pharmacy in Louisville.

These figures bring the total of students enrolled for the fall semester in the University to 5656. Dr. R. L. Tuthill, registrar, announced. Figures on enrollment for evening classes have not been completed yet.

ODK Tag Sales Finance Series Of Campus Projects

Omicron Delta Kappa tags, the little diamond-shaped cards sold during the week before football games, finance a series of campus projects.

Four scholarships to athletes in minor sports, a job conference, lights for the intramural field, and a contribution toward the building of the SUB are some of the projects that have been financed in the past by the tag sales.

Last year the honorary spent $1500 to put lights on the intramural field.

ODK is a senior men's leadership society, with members selected for outstanding records in service and scholarship.

Four Scholarships Offered
This year, ODK will again sponsor four scholarships and a job conference.

Kyian Photos Begin Monday

Individual Kentuckian pictures of all juniors, seniors, and fraternities will be taken beginning Monday in Room 209 of the Journalism Building, Dave Bere, Kentuckian business manager, said this week.

Juniors and seniors may come to the Kentuckian office, Room 210, Journalism Building, and make appointments for pictures starting Monday. Fraternities and sororities will be sent appointment sheets which are to be returned within five days, Bere stated.

"We need everyone's cooperation to make picture-taking go as smoothly and rapidly as possible this year," Bere added. "Students can help a great deal by making appointments early, and by keeping the appointments."

Yearbooks for previous years, from 1946 to 1951, may be obtained at the Kentuckian office in the afternoons for $5.00 each.

Y Retreat Being Held At Otonka

Group To Leave Saturday At Noon, Returning Sunday

A YM-YWCA retreat is being held this weekend at Camp Otonka on the Kentucky River to plan the fall programs and activities for the Y.

All students interested in attending the outing should sign up at the Y office in the Student Union building today.

The group will leave the Student Union tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 and return Sunday by 3:00 p.m. Transportation and food will be furnished, but each student is requested to bring his own bedding.

The young people will be accompanied by Bart Peak and Miss Barbara Hall, staff members of the Y. The fee for the weekend is $2.50.

Other activities of the Y include a meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club at 7:30 tonight in the Y-lounge of the Student Union building.

The Phalanx, YMCA's Luncheon Fraternity, has resumed its Tuesday noon meetings. All members who haven't received notice should contact Bart Peak.

A YWCA presidential election is scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the Y lounge, and all association members are asked to be present for the voting. A new president will be elected to replace Sally Hancher, this year's president who didn't return to the University. Ruth Ann Maggard, YWCA vice-president, has been acting in the official capacity.

I-D Card Distribution To Begin Wednesday

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will be the days for distribution of student identification cards. The cards will be at the Memorial Coliseum ticket windows from 1 to 6 p.m. each of the three days.

ID Cards will be given Wednesday to students with last names beginning with the letters "A" through "F". On Thursday, those with last names beginning with letters "G" through "M" may receive their cards. Students whose last names begin with "N" through "Z" may obtain their cards Friday.

Students will receive the cards upon presentation of the yellow fee receipts which were received at registration. If the slip has been lost, a duplicate may be obtained at the Comptroller's Office in the Administration Building.

Donovan To Present Assembly With Hold-The-Line Budget For Next Two Year Period

Dr. Herman L. Donovan To Ask Legislators For Increase

Donovan Says Project Is Future Possibility

University students should not get overly excited over the recently released UP story announcing state approval of a multi-million dollar building program at the University, according to a statement given by the President H. L. Donovan.

The president emphasized that the state had done nothing more than "give us permission to go ahead and build." After saying that "we are, of course, glad to get the permission," he added that this permission did not mean "that steam shovels can go to work tomorrow."

According to Dr. Donovan, the University still has two handicaps to overcome before it can start work on the three buildings—a science building, and dormitories for men and women — which make up the project. "One," he said, "we do not have any money and second, if we had the money 'I don't know whether or not we could get the restricted building materials.'"

Total cost of the three buildings, according to the UP story, would be $7,075,000. The State Property and Buildings Commission authorized the University Board of Trustees to proceed with the construction of the science building and the women's dormitories, with the understanding that no commission funds would be used for the construction. The two buildings will be financed by revenue bonds.

The $2,225,000 men's dormitory is to be built from funds borrowed from the federal government. The University is eligible for special

200 Members Of Faculty May Have To Be Dropped If Requests Not Granted

A realistic hold-the-line UK budget proposal of $5,401,536 for each of the next two years was outlined to representatives of the press and radio, and through them to the citizens of Kentucky, by President H. L. Donovan at a dinner meeting in the SUB last night. The budget request will be presented to the upcoming session of the state legislature.

The budget announcement highlighted the message which President Donovan has carried to all parts of the Commonwealth during the last ten years — "Kentucky Cannot be a Greater State without a Greater State University."

"The people of Kentucky do not want their University to lose ground. If the University is to hold its own during the next two years, it must receive approximately the sums of money it is requesting the governor and the General Assembly to appropriate for its support." That was the keynote of the president's message.

The budget request for each of the next two years calls for an increase of $1,951,536. The anticipated annual loss of $1,000,000 in fees for veterans attending the University, combined with the inflation of the dollar, were pointed out forcefully in showing the absolute necessity for the increased budget if the University is to hold its own.

At Threshold of Greatness
Failure to receive the additional funds would leave no alternative to the university but "to drop approximately 200 members of its faculty and staff."

"This budget-balancing necessity — at a time when the University stands at the threshold of greatness — would be a tragedy to the state, but it would be incapable without the requested budget, it was pointed out.

Highlights of the budget request follow:

$1,000,000 . . . to make up the loss of income due to the decrease in the enrollment of veterans.

$330,000 . . . a cost-of-living increase for faculty and staff members that the University may halt to some degree the lowering of their standard of living.

To Meet Ag. College Deficiency
$155,987 . . . for the purpose of paying the deficiency in the cost of maintaining and operating the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

$40,000 . . . for badly needed repairs to buildings.
$50,000 . . . for steel shelving for Library Annex, that the University may place all of its books on the shelves for use of students.
$62,100 . . . for expansion of work of Kentucky Geological Survey urgently requested by mineral resources industries.

$26,269 . . . for the purpose of paying the deficiency in the cost of maintaining and operating the College of Pharmacy.

$200,000 . . . for Agricultural Extension work for which there is a greater and greater demand.

Comparison of the Last Biennial Appropriation and the Present Budget Request

1950-51 Appropriation	$ 3,450,000
1951-52 Appropriation	3,450,000
Total for Biennium	6,900,000
1952-53 Requested Appropriation	5,401,536
1953-54 Requested Appropriation	5,401,536
Total for Biennium	10,803,072

For Farmers Demands
$50,000 . . . to meet the demands of the farmers for additional research and to cover the increased cost of such research.

President Donovan emphasized the urgency of the University's budget needs in no uncertain terms.

"This is not a cry of 'wolf, wolf' to frighten anyone," he declared. "It is a sober statement of fact of which the people of Kentucky should be made aware before disaster happens to their University."

Threatened With Personnel Loss

In the threatened loss of valuable personnel he added:
"During the past decade the University has been able to select carefully a large number of promising younger faculty and staff members whose training is the best that can be obtained in the universities of the world. These are men and women who will continue to give the University distinction ten or twenty years from now. The loss of these professors and research specialists would be tragic to the University, but it would be even more tragic to the state of Kentucky."

UK Candidate For Queen Finds California Exciting

By Emily Campbell

Pat Moore, UK's representative to the Berkeley Football Queen Festival, spent seven days touring California, dining, dancing, going to parties, and football games.

Pat flew from Lexington to Chicago on Sunday. Five of the candidates for queen met in Chicago and went on to Phoenix where they met two more of the girls. In Los Angeles all the girls gathered to spend the first night. The Junior Chamber of Commerce met the girls in Los Angeles with a big reception. That night the 10 girls toured Los Angeles and were chaperoned by the Jaycees to three big night clubs.

The next morning a chartered plane took the girls to Oakland. In Oakland they rode in convertibles in a parade from Oakland to Berkeley. A press reception was held for the girls in Berkeley. Headquarters for the candidates was Hotel Claremont in Berkeley.

Tuesday night a dinner party in honor of the girls was given at Trader Vic's, a Chinese resort. Each of the girls were given leis made of over 100 orchids which had been flown in from Hawaii.

Pat Takes Plane Tour
Pat was especially impressed with the three-hour plane tour which Pan American sponsored for them on Wednesday. Leaving from San Francisco, they saw Lake Tahoe in Nevada, Yosemite National Park, San Francisco, and other places of interest in California. Another tour on Wednesday was of San Francisco.

when the girls saw China Town, Fisherman's Wharf, Golden Gate, Alcatraz, and rode in cable cars. Also on the agenda for Wednesday was a radio program and a TV program. That night the Jaycees from San Francisco entertained the girls. The owner of the Claremont Hotel gave a private swimming party at his ranch in Walnut Creek, Cal., for his 10 guests on Thursday.

The Queen Is Crowned

One of the big events of the week was the Coronation Ball held at the Claremont Hotel with Dick Jurgens and his orchestra playing. This ball was held on Thursday night. Rod Cameron crowned Carolyn Johnson, of the University of Minnesota, as Miss Football of 1951. Escorts for the ball were boys from the University of California.

The city officials of Berkeley gave a luncheon for the queen and her attendants on Friday. A tour of Berkeley and a shopping trip to Los Angeles made this day a busy one.

Berkeley was the scene of a big parade on Friday night. As the ten girls, floats, and bands formed the parade, 300,000 people looked on.

Girls Tour Campus
Following the parade the girls went to a pep rally sponsored by the University of California as they prepared for their big game on Saturday.

To bring the busy and exciting week to a close, on Saturday the girls toured the University of California campus. They were entertained by the Elks Club for a lunch-

Troupers In Quest Of More Talent

By Paul Knapp

The Troupers, UK's equivalent of a three-ring circus and a vaudeville circuit, want more talent.

If you can whistle "Dixie" with your mouth full of crackers, you have talent. But — this isn't the kind of talent the UK Troupers want.

They already have the best in high class entertainment on the campus. That is, all except that which has newly arrived and that belonging to bashful souls who are hiding their candles under a bushel.

Now if you belong to either of these last mentioned gifted groups, here is your chance to go big time.

Audience Appeal Counts
If you have forgotten just what 'kind of talent you do have, run through this list and size yourself up. They want singers, dancers of all varieties (no chorus girls please), acrobats, gymnasts, magicians, and clowns. If you have another type to offer, judge it on the basis of universal audience appeal. It must be able to please as many people as possible.

Proof that it has to be good to be with the Troupers was the big show given last spring in the Coliseum. Over 5,000 people attended the performance and went away well entertained.

Some of the highlights that will long be remembered from this show are the "clever dances by the Mary Jo Bishop and Jimmy Inman team, and Larry Mettler with his educated whip and lasso. And who could forget the clowns headed by Jim Anders and Lorenz Smith?

Troupers Set For Tuesday
The Troupers were hard hit by FOUR CLOWNS and a master of ceremonies make a little merriment at one of last year's Troupers' shows. The Troupers, made up of UK students, are looking for new talent for their 1951-52 season.

graduation. This is the reason why they are having tryouts from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Laboratory Theater of the Fine Arts Building.

You, the talented one, are to be there to put on your act before the remnants left from graduation. If two-thirds of those present are for you, you're in. If you need an accompanist either bring your own or Troupers will furnish one.

This doesn't pertain to the acrobats and tumblers. They are to see either M. G. Karsner or Miss Joyce Peribx of the respective Physical Education Departments. They will judge your skills.

Officers Are Named

The officers of the organization were elected at a picnic near the end of last year. They are Carl Newey, president; Jim Duffy, vice president; Ann Barker, secretary; and Fred Maggard, treasurer.

At the end of each year, sweaters are awarded to the members who have performed in as many as half the shows and have attended the meetings regularly for that year. Although a member can get only one

Only Profit—School Spirit

Students should not consider tonight's SGA Dance as "just another money-making project," because that is not its purpose. In fact, it is doubtful that the admission price will do any more than cover the cost of the two bands being hired for the event.

The real reason for the dance is to promote a feeling of school spirit and co-operation. For too long UK students have felt little or no "sense of belonging" in regard to the University as a whole. To most of them, it does not exist as a unit in itself, but only as a central clearing house for other smaller groups for which they feel a real allegiance.

This initial dance, according to SGA, is an experiment. If it proves a success, the organization plans other dances featuring "big-name" bands — the next to follow the Tennessee game.

We see no need for the SGA Dance to fail. The bands are good — and where else can you find two for one dance — the price is reasonable, the night is relatively free of other activities, and late permission has been granted the girls living in dorms and sorority houses.

The only obstacle we can foresee is the pseudo-sophistication that is sometimes assumed by those who feel that anything involving all students is beneath their dignity. We hope that this attitude, which is actually more childish than sophisticated, will not appear again this year.

It is time that the University really become a university.

Concerning The UK Budget

By Pres. H. L. Donovan

"The growth and development of the University has been slow. A study of Dr. James F. Hopkins' history, The University of Kentucky: Origins and Early Years, will impress any reader with the trials and disappointments, the handicaps and tragic delays which the leaders and friends of the University have encountered. It can be said that Kentuckians were in no vulgar haste to build a great university. However, the contributions of men and materials, of scholarship and research, of love and devotion over a period of 86 years have accumulated until the University of Kentucky is at last at the threshold of greatness. The University's roots have sunk deep into Kentucky's soil. Our people know what it has done for them and they appreciate its services. The citizens of our State believe in the University and they regard it as one of their greatest assets. We are confident that they are willing to support it that it may continue to render greater and greater service to our people.

The progress of the University has been accelerated during the past decade. This progress has been largely the result of better support from the State and large sums of money the University has received from the Federal Government for Army contracts during World War II and as tuition from the Veterans Administration for the education of G.I.'s. These Federal funds have served as a "shot in the arm" in lifting the University to a new status and a new level of achievement.

There is ample evidence all about us to convince anyone who looks at the University that it is on the verge of greatness. Its student body has doubled, the value of its plant is more than twice what it was a decade ago, its faculty has increased in size and what is more significant, in quality. Its research contributions have multiplied. The publications of the faculty are far greater than ever before. The University's reputation among scholars has attained a new standing. The Federal Government has called upon the University for the expert service of its faculty both at home and abroad. All of these and many other signs are evidence of the University's new attainments as an institution of higher education.

Many of these later achievements would not have been possible without the Federal funds that have come to the University during the past decade. Now, Army contracts have been completed. G.I.'s have nearly exhausted their entitlements and veterans' tuition has about dried up. The loss of these monies will seriously curtail the University's program unless the State makes up the loss of Federal funds. This is what we are requesting the State to do. It is what many other states have done at the meetings of their legislatures this past year. We confidently believe that Kentucky will not let its University slip from its present rank of eminence among the universities of this country.

Our University is at the threshold of greatness. Don't we want to hold our ground? In both football and basketball, the University ranks at, or near, the top. We are certain most of our citizens of Kentucky would regard it as a disaster if we should fall from this position of eminence in athletics. However, it would be far more disastrous to Kentucky for us to permit our pre-eminence in the fields of scholarship, teaching, and research to fall to a lower level.

We believe the next General Assembly will provide funds to make up for what the University will lose from Federal sources, in order to avoid the disaster we have pointed out. The University of Kentucky cannot afford to retreat from greatness. The State of Kentucky cannot afford to let this happen."

Contests, Scholarships Offer Food For Student Thought

By Marilyn Kilgus

Notices of scholarships, and contests, and job opportunities are all over the paper. Their presence here is inspirational, to say the least; their possibilities sound worthwhile, to speak of money in the bank. Listen, girls, there's the Vogue magazine "Prix de Paris" for fashion writers, there's Mademoiselle magazine's contest for student writers. Scholars — look up news of the Fulbright scholarships for study abroad, and don't overlook the chance for study fellowships in Mexico, offered by the Institute of International Education, through the sponsorship of the Mexican-United States Commission on Cultural Cooperation. For the agriculture students—the Uhlmann Grain Company and Chicago Board of Trade have continued an essay contest on grain marketing activity. Check on deadlines for entry. Consider the values to be gained from participation. Consider them well.

Something meant to be enjoyed—the excellent art displays in the Fine Arts' gallery and halls. The artist's worth in creating something challenging to imagination and enjoyment is proved only by the amount of pleasure evoked from his works. Give the student artists the chance to prove their place. Visit the exhibit of student work, done last year, this very week.

There is forever a palm outstretched on the campus. It seems that a resigned attitude is in order.

But one palm now outstretched is taking your dollars and cents for good use on the campus. The tag sales before each football game, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, are used for intramural and minor sports equipment and training at UK. Golf and tennis are two of the sports aided by funds received. Liven the University's sports program — and the stadium — with colorful ODK tags.

However, nothing can serve so well in adding color to the football games as the Suky-sponsored student card section. The block of seats occupied by the students, which successfully carried messages of pep and victory to team and opponents last year, will again spell out, in vivid color, the students' enthusiastic backing.

IT'S EASIER THAN EVER!

Students! Make money
writing Lucky Strike jingles!
MORE FUN, TOO!

No tricks! No gimmicks! Takes no time — no special talent! You can make $25.

Just write a simple four-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

(or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below.)

Write a Lucky Strike jingle, like those you see on this page, based on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette, or other qualities of Luckies such as those listed below. If your jingle is selected for possible use in Lucky Strike advertising, we will pay you $25 for the right to use it and your name in our advertising. Lucky Strike jingles will soon be running in your paper. Start today—send in as many jingles as you like. Be the first to write a jingle in your school!

Before each class—and after too,
I do just what I like—
Relax—enjoy the better taste of good ol' Lucky Strike!

Just made a great discovery
which I announce with haste:
Folks go for Lucky Strike because they like that better taste!

READ THESE SIMPLE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike four-line jingle on a plain piece of paper or postcard and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

2. Base your jingle on the fact that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette—or on any of the alternate themes below.

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

IMPORTANT:

To make money writing jingles, it is not essential to base your jingle on "Luckies taste better than any other cigarette." You may base a jingle on other outstanding qualities of Luckies such as the following:

L.S./M.F.T. Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Be Happy—Go Lucky!
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment
Luckies are the world's best-made cigarette.

SGA Dance Is Top Event On UK's Social Calender

By Emily Campbell

CONGRATULATIONS to all the new sorority and fraternity pledges! It seems as if half the campus is sporting a pledge pin of one sort or another.

Don't forget the big two name band SGA dance tonight in the Ballroom of the SUB. The dance is informal and the time is from 8 to 12:30. Girls will be given 1 a.m. permission for this, the first big dance of the season. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from SGA members.

This week UK travels to the U. of Miss., for a big game on Saturday, but next Saturday we have an afternoon home game with Georgia Tech. Bruce Cotton is directing the card section for this year and any organization interested in obtaining seats on the 50 yard line should contact him at the AGR house.

Delta Zeta Sorority initiated the following girls recently: Helen Batte, Imogene Chatten, Joan Healy, and Peggy Martin.

Mademoiselle's College Board Contest is now underway. The grand prize is a month in New York on salary for the twenty winners helping to write and edit Mademoiselle's 1952 College issue. Deadline for application is Oct. 31. Anyone interested in more details should call the Kernel newsroom.

Pan-Hellenic will announce a second bid day this semester for sororities at their meeting on Monday. Watch the Kernel for the date and details!

Every Tuesday night a sweater swing is held at the SUB in the ballroom. This is a good night to hold open for your week night date.

All sororities, fraternities, and other organizations on campus that want news on the society page should turn it in to the Society desk of the Kernel by Tuesday noon.

Square Dances Will Be Held Tuesday Night

The Lexington Folk Dance Center will continue its ninth season of activities at 7:30 Tuesday night with the second of a series of weekly open square dances in the Women's Gymnasium. Students and faculty are admitted free and no previous dancing experience is necessary.

Thursday night at 7:30 the Center will continue its series of intermediate dances in the Women's Gymnasium. These dances will be open to all dancers for the first month, and afterward by invitation.

The Tuesday and Thursday night dances are co-sponsored by the Center, which is an affiliate of the Country Dance Society of America and the physical education department. Center membership is open to anyone who is interested in folk dancing and the related folk arts. Members are admitted free to all Center dances for which their ability qualifies them, and to all other Center activities.

B. Wyman Stephens is chairman of the Tuesday night group, and G. Karsner is chairman of the Thursday night group.

Reynolds To Salute 80 Kentucky Towns

Approximately 80 Kentucky towns are being saluted by the Reynolds Metal Company in half-time radio broadcasts at all U. of K. football games.

The University radio station, WBKY, is making a series of recorded interviews of University students conducted by ex-Governor Keen Johnson. The interviews are tape-recorded and re-broadcast during the UK football games by seven radio stations in this vicinity.

Students were selected on the basis of a survey made of campus activities, and each student represents his hometown which is being saluted.

WE NEVER CLOSE

He's a Campus A-man

The "A" stands for "Activities"—and he's in a lot of them. Plays first-string basketball. Writes for the school paper. Represents his class on the student council.

And on top of that, he's a good student.

Telephone people are like that, too. Besides giving good, friendly, courteous telephone service, they take part in numerous extracurricular activities.

That's why you'll find telephone men and women working on charity drives, joining service clubs, leading Scout troops.

The same spirit of friendliness and helpfulness which lies behind the fine telephone service this country receives, makes telephone people A-people in their communities.

Dean Funkhouser's Book Published Posthumously

The publication of a posthumous book by the late Dean W. D. Funkhouser has been announced by the Department of Zoology. Dean Funkhouser was head of the department. The book has been edited by its members and published in Belgium.

The book is intended to be a summation of the life work of the author, which was a study of a family of insects, the Membracidae. Among several hundred books and papers which he authored, he considered this book to be his most important contribution to the world of entomology. Until his death in 1948, he was the world authority on this insect family.

The volume, a large quarto book of 383 pages, is illustrated by more than 260 figures, which are the work of the noted scientific illustrator, Mrs. Aline Rudolph Hansens of Rutgers, N.J. It is based upon studies made from all the great museums of the world and from his personal collection.

The history of the book has been eventful. It was completed and submitted to the publisher in 1938, just in time for the German invasion of Belgium. Its fate at the hands of the Nazis at the fall of Brussels was never known by the author up to the time of his death. Some six months after his death, the Department received a notice addressed to the Dean revealing that the manuscript had been safely in a bank vault through the years of the occupation and that the publisher was now ready to proceed with it.

The book gives a concise account of the structure, life-history, habits, and ecology of the Membracidae, followed by the main body of the work which consists of keys and descriptions of 290 genera of this family. The number of species recognized in the book, total 2334, and of this total 1200 species are represented by specimens in the Funkhouser collection, now a part of the University Museum.

With the Membracidae collection is also the author's lifetime collection of books and articles pertaining to this insect family which is one of the largest in existence.

Typography Expert Speaks At Library

Dr. P. J. Conkwright, chief typographer for the Princeton University Press and graduate of UK, class of 1928, will give an informal talk in the reading room of the special collection department on the fourth floor of the Margaret I. King Library at 8:00 p.m. Monday. He will talk informally on the making of books and problems of the university press.

Books designed by Conkwright have frequently been chosen to be among the fifty best books, awarded annually by the American Institute of Graphic Arts. In one year three of his books were chosen, more than any other designer. Conkwright is currently working on the job of publishing the papers of Thomas Jefferson, which are being issued by the New York Times and the Princeton University Press.

After graduating from the University Mr. Conkwright was employed by the University of Oklahoma Press and later became chief designer and typographer.

Mr. Conkwright's wife is the former Miss Hazel Boone of Lexington, who is also a graduate of the University.

Records Microfilmed By UK Librarians

Dr. Jacqueline Bull, archivist at the Margaret I. King Library, Miss Polly Warren, head of photographic work, and Miss Mary Hester Cooper, from the Bureau of Source Materials in Higher Education, returned Saturday from a week's stay in Montreat, N. C., where they made microfilm copies of the records of the Presbyterian Church as they pertain to the state of Kentucky.

These films constitute the beginning of a project which will be expanded into collecting similar material on all denominations. Work was begun with the Presbyterian records because of related material on hand in the Samuel M. Wilson library.

The records which were filmed go back to 1790 and parallel the history of the state.

Student Fellowship To Meet Sunday

The Disciples Student Fellowship will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Kentucky Utilities Auditorium, Short and Limestone Street, for supper and worship program. Dr. Leslie R. Smith, pastor of the Central Christian Church, will speak to the group on the topic, "Time and Your Mind."

Officers of the DSP are Ken Darnell and Gloria Wiggins, co-presidents; Kim Jones and Laura Vance, co-vice president; Jane Clark, secretary; Bill Davis and Carolyn Oliver, co-treasurers; and Ann Williams and Jimmy Todd, Inter-Faith Council representatives.

Services for the Central Christian Church are being held temporarily at the Henry Clay Auditorium each Sunday at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Fulbright Applications Are Due By Oct. 15

All seniors eligible for Fulbright Scholarships must have their applications in by October 15. Dr. A. E. Bigge, Fulbright adviser, warned this week. Failure to have them in by 5 p.m. of that date will eliminate applicants from consideration.

Dr. Bigge urged that all applications be turned in early in order that a more thorough evaluation of the applicants may be given.

Applications may be turned in at the office of Dr. Bigge, 303 Miller Hall.

Spivey Posts Dates Of Language Exams

Dr. Herman Spivey, dean of the Graduate School, has announced that the French and Spanish reading exams will be held on Friday, Oct. 12.

The German exam will be held in Room 302, Miller Hall, at 2:00 p.m. on Dec. 11.

Fellowships Are Offered By Mexico

The Mexican Government has announced that nineteen fellowships for study in Mexico beginning next semester are now available to U.S. graduate and undergraduate students.

These fellowships, which cover tuition and a monthly living allowance, are offered through the Mexican-United States Commission on Cultural Cooperation.

In order to be eligible, a student should be a citizen of the United States, have a working knowledge of Spanish, a good academic record, good health, and a knowledge of the culture of the U.S.

The fields in which awards are being made are as follows: undergraduate physical anthropology, archaeology, ethnology, Mexican history, architecture, philosophy, and letters; graduate — physical anthropology, archaeology, ethnology, Mexican history, museography, painting, biological sciences, pediatrics, tropical medicine, and cardiology.

Some round-trip travel grants between the Texas border and Mexico City will be available.

Application blanks may be secured from the Institute of International Education, and must be filed with all supporting documents not later than Oct. 15. The address is 2 West 45th Street, New York.

Grain Company Holds Student Competition

The Uhlmann Awards Student Contest will be continued again this year, it was announced by Richard F. Uhlmann, president of the Uhlmann Grain Co., and Carl C. Bostrom, president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

The purpose of the contest, which is in its third year, is to stimulate interest among university students in the marketing problems of grain trade. The subject for this year's contest is "An Analysis of Some Aspects of Grain Marketing Activity."

The contest is open to all graduate and undergraduate students of all recognized schools and colleges in the United States and Canada. Lecturers and instructors working for advance degrees are also eligible.

Awards will be made in each class of competition. There will be 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes of $300, $150 and $75, as well as four honorable mentions of $25 for each of the two groups, graduate and undergraduate. No entry fee is required.

Manuscripts should be submitted to the Educational Advisory Committee, Room 666 Chicago Board of Trade by May 1, 1952. Contest rules may be secured by writing the Awards Committee, or the Public Relations Department of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Student Union Groups Close Tuesday At 4

Students who wish to join Student Union Committees must do so before 4 p.m. Tuesday, Ann Carson, president of the Student Union Board, said this week.

Miss Carson said students may sign up for the committees anytime in Room 122, SUB.

Robbery Attempted At Sorority House

An attempted break-in at the Zeta Tau Alpha house early Sunday morning was thwarted by awakened members of the sorority. The Lexington police dismissed the incident as a college prank, but the campus police and the girls were more concerned.

The prowler broke a dining room window. Because of wet ground underneath it, the campus officials were able to get legible plaster casts of the man's footprints. The attempt occurred at 2:30 a.m. Evidently the prowler thought the girls would be asleep. However, the falling glass awakened a few of the lighter sleepers and their outcries frightened the man away.

Tau Sigma Tryouts To Be Held Thursday

Final tryouts for Tau Sigma, modern dance group, will be Thursday, Oct. 4, instead of Monday, Oct. 8, as previously announced, Janice Stille, director of the group, said this week.

And Freshmen Have It Worse

Transfers Take On Greenish-Blue Color For Their First Few Days At University

By Kathy Fryer

Have you ever been a transfer student? You're not as green as the average freshman, but in your rather greenish-blue state you see the University in a different light. Sure, you know what a comptroller's office is and how to laugh at a professor's joke, but even so you get some unusual impressions during your first couple of weeks at UK.

If you live in the Bluegrass you've probably seen the Coliseum before, but on the morning of registration it bears no resemblance to a basketball gym.

You know just what a white mouse in a psychologist's trap feels like as you thread your way through the obstacle course on the ramp; and the mass of schedule tables on the floor below looks exactly like a political convention with PHYSICS, HUMANITIES, and ANATOMY on the posters instead of VIRGINIA, KENTUCKY, and ALABAMA. You expect any minute to see a white-haired gentleman stand up and start a stampede by yelling, "All you-all Disclerats rahse up an' foliah me!"

Tests Aren't Bad

The physical and preregistration tests aren't too frightening if you are a transfer student. You've been through most of that before.

Yet if you went to a small college, nothing scares you more than those enormous lecture rooms with seats on stairs reaching all the way up to the ceiling. If you got to one of these giants in Kastle or McVey a little late, you had the vague feeling that you were in the back row of a theater balcony. A pair of binoculars would come in handy, you thought. The boy on your right looks over, grins, and murmurs, "Oh, this altitude is killing me!"

Yep, you're at UK all right! As you begin to find your way around without the help of student guides, you find out that the favorite howling place of the new wolves is the circular stone seat in front of Barker Hall, that the SUB isn't a campus hotel lobby, and that there is a way of getting out of the FA building if you follow a map.

Barfoot Football

You find that the cool, ivy-covered building with windows you can't see into is the Law Building, and that the well-dressed men playing football in their bare feet outside are lawyers.

You find out the hard way that girls just don't play ping-pong in the SUB game room according to some unwritten law, and that sorority girls aren't as snooty as you had been told.

You remember the fevered warnings the hometown veterans of UK had given you all year. ("Don't get Prof. Kumkwat in taxidermy, whatever you do. He just keeps you in stitches.") "Keep out of psychology, if you can. Nothing but nuts in that department." "Try not to get any Saturday classes." "Join all the clubs the first semester." "Don't join anything."

It doesn't do any good now, though. The schedule you rewrote seven times and handed reverently to your dean is now on file. You are still waiting to find out what teachers you will have to study the hardest for, and which ones know what they are talking about.

What Is The Thing?

Even though you've been on the campus a little over a week, you still don't know what the low, flat, smoking thing opposite White Hall is, what florist is building a greenhouse on the campus, the names and pins of all the different sororities and fraternities, and how to find your way to Memorial Hall.

It isn't so bad, though. You get used to seeing 100 strange faces for every familiar one and taking a hike from one class to another.

Even though your friends in the college you came from wailed, "Oh, you'll be lost in that big place, Kathy," when you told them you were transferring to UK, you plunged in anyway.

Day Set For Photo Retakes

University students desiring to have pictures taken for their I-D cards are requested to report to the Coliseum on Saturday, September 28 between the hours of 9-11 in the morning. Students who need retakes are also requested to report. Students without I-D cards will not be permitted to games and other athletic events at the University.

Reservists Deferred Regardless Of Grades

Members of the active reserve will definitely be deferred from the draft for their periods of enlistment, regardless of grades, First Lieutenant William R. Lyman, company commander of Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 397th Airborne Infantry Regiment, said this week.

"Chances of being called to active duty are highly improbable," Lieutenant Lyman added. "The only time we will be called to duty is in case of all-out war."

Men who join the unit will draw longevity for all the time they are in the active reserve. They will also draw one day's pay for each two-hour meeting, Lieutenant Lyman said. There are two meetings of the Lexington unit each month, on the second and fourth Mondays of the month.

Veterans may join the active reserve unit with the rank they held when discharged. High school graduates and those with no prior service may join with consideration given to schooling, ROTC experience, and other factors, the lieutenant explained.

"There are plenty of unit vacancies for promotion," he said.

Students now taking ROTC can also join the active reserve unit, according to Lieutenant Lyman. Joining a company of an airborne infantry regiment does not mean one must become a parachutist, he said. If a member of the unit wishes, he may take parachute training, but it is not required.

Members of the unit will be issued full uniforms and field equipment, and will receive the training of a Regular Army soldier.

Lieutenant Lyman said more information could be obtained by calling him at 2-6099, by calling Sgt. Cotton at the Reserve Armory on Spring Street, or by notifying the ROTC unit instructor's office.

New UK Greenhouse Under Construction

Flowers for official University educational and social events will be raised in a new greenhouse, now under construction on the east side of White Hall.

According to Norris R. Elliott, professor of landscape architecture and floriculture, flowers have seldom been used in the past at many of these functions because the various sponsors had no budget to purchase them.

The bouquets grown in the new greenhouse will be provided on request at no cost, and are not intended for individual wear, Prof. Elliott said.

Completion of the building, which is 28 by 85 feet in size, is expected by Jan. 1.

The new greenhouse is not planned as a laboratory for horticulture students, Prof. Elliott stated.

Phi Alpha Delta Will Celebrate Its 37th Year On UK Campus

Henry Clay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, national law fraternity, marks its 37th year on the UK campus this year.

Phi Alpha Delta, founded at the University of Chicago in 1898, originally was formed to resist legislation which seriously affected all law students in Illinois then preparing for the bar examination. The group succeeded in securing legislation which exempted the students then studying for the bar examination.

From this beginning Phi Alpha Delta has grown to be one of the leading law fraternities with 74 active chapters in American law schools and 26 alumni chapters in the nation's larger cities with a total membership of approximately 20,000.

The fraternity is divided geographically into 12 districts which comprise all of the states of the Union. Clay Chapter is located in District Nine, which is made up of Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. In addition to district conventions the fraternity holds bi-annual national conventions for the purpose of carrying on the business of the fraternity. Clay Chapter and Vinson Chapter of the University of Louisville were hosts to the last national convention held at French Lick, Ind., in 1950.

Clay Chapter received its charter on May 14, 1914, being the first law fraternity to come to UK's campus. Phi Alpha Delta was the first organization to sponsor the annual Legal Forum at UK, which has since become a regular part of the students' extracurricular work. The forum consists of a series of lectures by outstanding men in various fields of law from all parts of the country.

Another part of the Phi Alpha Delta program is a monthly luncheon which features talks by prominent leaders in the field of law from Kentucky. At these luncheons members of the freshman class are the guests of the chapter.

Students entering the College of Law this term were furnished copies of a brochure prepared by the chapter entitled "Hints of Briefing Cases" which was designed to help the new student acquaint himself with the proper approach to a law problem. The chapter is at present planning a book scholarship to be offered to second year students.

One of the year's outstanding events is the joint initiation sponsored by the Clay Chapter and the Vinson Chapter, which is held in the spring in the Court of Appeals Chambers at Frankfort. The initiation is followed by a banquet which features a leading figure as principal speaker.

Clay Chapter held its first meeting of the year yesterday to outline the year's activities. The officers who will direct Phi Alpha Delta for the present year are Eugene E. Hines, justice; James M. Todd, W. Barkley.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 23

This classy campus caper-cutter got his snootful of cute cigarette tests. It didn't take him long to dig out the fact that cigarette mildness can't be determined by a mere single puff or quick-sniff experiment! Millions of smokers, on and off the campus, have discovered there's only one true test of cigarette mildness.

IT'S THE SENSIBLE TEST... the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Chasing Thieves Or Hiring Coaches, Its All A Part Of Shively's Job

By Earl Cox

Bernie Shively, whose job as Athletic Director of the University of Kentucky requires him to supervise one of the nation's top athletic departments, leaned back in his comfortable chair and smiled pleasantly when he was asked what was his hardest job.

His thoughts probably flashed back over his colorful and varied career. An All-American guard in football at Illinois, he has been listed on many all-time All-America teams. Coming to Kentucky the day after graduating from college, he has been line coach, track coach, baseball coach, head football coach, and athletic director in his 24 years here.

Likes New Situations
Getting back to the question he was asked, Shively answered, "Everything is easy about this job." He went on to explain that if a person likes his job, he has no work to do. Shively likes his job even though he has more duties than he can count. Every new situation that comes up concerning the athletic department presents a new problem for him to solve.

Briefly, here are some of the things the athletic director does:

1) He has charge of the entire athletic department and everything connected with it.

2) He has charge of the physical plant, Stoll Field and Memorial Coliseum.

3) He arranges transportation, hotel accommodations, meals, work-outs, etc., for UK teams on trips.

He makes most of the trips with the teams. While in New York with the cagers last winter, he was the intended victim of a man who tried to swindle him out of some tickets. He chased the man for several blocks through the crowded streets of New York, pounced on him, and held him until police arrived. "That was just an extra curricular activity," Shively said.

Handles All Ticket Sales

4) He is in charge of all ticket sales. This job sometimes calls for diplomacy. There are always people wanting tickets to games at the last minute. They usually end up in Shively's office. If tickets are available, he will go out of his way to get them. If they aren't available, he has to soothe the fan's feelings. More than $20,000 already has been sent back to people requesting tickets for the Tennessee game which has been a sell-out for quite some time.

5) He orders all athletic equipment and sees that all bills are paid.

6) Working with the coaches, he arranges schedules, sometimes three or four years in advance. For instance, four games already are scheduled for the 1954 gridirers.

7) Shively selects coaches for the nine varsity sports which UK supports. At the present time, only tennis is without a coach, and Shively said, "I am working on that now."

Shively was named to his present position in 1929, succeeding S. A. "Daddy" Boles. Since then he has seen Kentucky go big time in football, win the Sugar Bowl and its first SEC football championship. Stoll Field enlarged, Memorial Coliseum built, and work started on a new practice field for the football team.

Mr. "Shive," the name given him around the athletic plant, has kept in shape by officiating high school and college games throughout Kentucky. He looks like he could go out and give some of the present-day linemen a rough time. After looking at his imposing frame, one can easily tell why he was All-America.

Praises College Administration

Shively is high in his praise of the college administration. "It would be impossible for UK to have a good athletic program without the cooperation of the administration," he said. Vice-President Chamberlain is his immediate superior.

Shively has said repeatedly that Kentucky has the best coaching staff in America. You can rest assured that the coaches hold him in the same high regard.

Kittens Play Tech Frosh Tomorrow

The University of Kentucky Kittens, composed of freshmen and reserve players, meet the Georgia Tech second stringers at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on Stoll Field.

The Kittens, still smarting from a 6-0 defeat at the hands of Fort Knox last week, will be out to pick up their first win. Practice this week has included several scrimmage sessions to determine a starting lineup.

Assistant Coach Charlie McClenahan handles the Kittens in their engagements. He was not particularly impressed with their showing last week.

Athletic director Bernie Shively said he expects a turnout of about 5,000 for the game.

Bob Hallum, 160-pounder from Lebanon, Tenn., who has looked good since fall practice began Sept. 1, is expected to hold down a defensive backfield job. Hallum appeared in the Tennessee Tech game but did not travel with the varsity to Texas.

Dick Rushing, an all-state high school back in Arkansas, has been impressive in workouts and looked good in the Fort Knox game. He will be seen in the offensive backfield.

A closely contested game is expected. With the SEC rules allowing freshmen to compete on the varsity level, first year men play with the determination of promotion.

Student tickets cost 50 cents and may be obtained only at the Coliseum. Non-student tickets are priced at $1.

Gates to be used for the game are those on Euclid Ave.

New Blue Coats Make Cats Among Nations 'Best Dressed'

Aside from being one of the top football teams in the nation, the University of Kentucky Wildcats are among the best dressed men in the country.

Snappy blue coats, with the letters UK inscribed on the pockets, have been supplied to each member of the traveling roster. Folks in Texas, Memphis, Little Rock, and Lexington who saw the squad dressed in awe at the handsomely dressed group.

The appearance of the traveling Cats is just another of the good public relations which they create wherever they appear.

There was not an excuse on the airplane which brought the Kentucky team back from Austin after their defeat at the hands of the Texas Longhorns.

There was, however, one strong conviction which was shared by the entire squad. They felt they had a better team than the Texans. A series of breaks which occurred, at crucial moments could have happened to any team.

Paul Jones, defensive halfback, who is playing his last year, saw no comparison between the Texas team and the Tennessee team which handed UK its lone defeat last year. "They aren't in the same league. Tennessee was far better. We should have beaten Texas by a good score."

The Texas game served to one great advantage. Squad confidence, which may have been lost with the departure of the nucleus of the Sugar Bowl champions, was at a very high pitch. The men whose actions had been limited to reserve play found they can play against the big boys. And the sophomores and freshmen realized after the game that they are as capable as the old hands.

Since the Sugar Bowl game last January, writers and forecasters from all over the nation have been predicting a weaker team. Some of the men may have believed they should tread lightly where Gain, James, Yowarski, Wannamaker, and others have trod.

These same men now realize they can hold their own in any conference.

Transportation to and from Texas was far from good. A scheduled two and one-half hour flight from Lexington to Little Rock developed into a three and one-half flight to Memphis. A 40-minute stop for gas grew into an hour and 40-minute layover.

The flight to Austin was way behind schedule. Coach Bryant had planned a workout on the Texas turf for 4:30 p.m. but the team did not reach the stadium until after 7 p.m. It was dark at that time and the workout was limited to light calisthenics.

As a result of the long trip, the team did not eat until 9 p.m.

The team went from the stadium to the airport after the game for the return trip but the number two engine refused to start and the departure was delayed three hours. The plane arrived at Blue Grass Airfield at 2:30 Sunday morning.

Co-captain Doug Moseley is recognized as the Twenty Questions champion of the squad. The guessing game is extremely popular with the players. Moseley wasn't stumped once on the trip but he had Jim MacKenzie and Don Weaver yelling "Uncle" time and again.

C. M. Newton Back In School After Season In Pro Baseball

C. M. Newton, former Wildcat pitching star and reserve basketball player, is back on the campus after completing his first season in professional baseball.

The big right hander was signed by the 1951 spring semester. He spent the season with Norfolk, Va., a Class B team in the Piedmont League, and Muskegon, Mich., a Class A team in the Central League.

Newton forfeited a year's eligibility in the Southeastern Conference when he accepted terms to a professional contract. A member of the basketball squad which won the NCAA championship last year, he signed a bonus contract because "I saw a way to pick up some money. I thought I had better take it while I had the chance."

Newton was assigned first to Norfolk where he appeared in 11 games as a relief pitcher. There he lost two games without picking up a victory. Despite this record, the Yankees were impressed enough to advance him to the Class A league.

At Muskegon, he appeared in eight games, winning four and losing one. He started five games and finished four of them.

Wildness, which sometimes bothered him when he was the stand-out of the Wildcat mound corps, disappeared with regular work. At Norfolk, Newton said, he had control trouble but at Muskegon the ball did as directed.

Best Game A Four-Hitter
Newton considers his best game of the season a four-hitter against Grand Rapids. His parents traveled from their Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home to Muskegon to watch their son and he rewarded them with a stellar performance. He retired the first nine men in order as well as the last 13.

Cats Meet Rebs At Oxford

Kentucky will tangle with Ole Miss at Oxford tomorrow afternoon in its first defense of the SEC crown that the Cats won last year.

Topmost in the minds of each team, in all probability, will be defeat. Kentucky will be thinking of its loss to Texas last week when the Blue blew hot and cold down in the land of the Longhorns.

The Rebels, on the other hand, will be mindful of the last two meetings they had with the Wildcats blistered by scores of 27-0 and 47-0. started the Red and Black on a downward slide after early season estimates had figured the Johnny Rebs to be title contenders.

Loaded For Bear

Coach Vaught is loading his guns for Bear with a split-T offense designed for plenty of deception and a lot of passing. Advance reports on the game say that the Rebels will use their halfbacks to do the throwing.

In the past, the Wildcats have come out on top of the statistics columns in their meetings with split-T teams. Kentucky edged Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl triumph on New Year's day by 13-7 and outgained Texas last week, 374 yards to 253 yards. Both the Sooners and the Longhorns were classed as running teams, however.

It was the aerial work of Babe

Farilli that spelled the yardage difference in both instances. Kentucky's work on the ground was definitely lacking during most of the Oklahoma game, though the Cats showed remarkably well against the Longhorns at Austin.

Might Meet Trouble

If Mississippi comes up with a passing game worthy of the advance notices, Kentucky could encounter some difficulty. Tennessee Poly scored twice on a strong Cat defense via the air route. Sorely missed in this year's defensive platoon are such dependables as Dom Pucci, and Bill Schaffnit on pass protection.

The Wildcats emerged from the Texas game with only minor injuries, considering the fierceness of the battle. But Co-Captain Doug Moseley, Gene Donaldson, and Ed Hamilton suffered bruises in the melee. However, all three are slated to see regular action against the Rebels.

Soph backs in the persons of Tom Fillion and Bunky Gruner gave Kentucky's offense a shot in the arm with their fine performances last Saturday. Coupled with Hamilton, Leskovar, the Jones twins, and Parilli, the Blue offense should continue to exhibit strength on the ground.

Line Shines

Defensive line play of Bill Conde, Calvin Smith, Jim Mackenzie, and Frank Fuller gives promise of readiness for the Ole Miss turf attack.

The Wildcats left Lexington by chartered bus last night for Louisville where they boarded private sleepers bound for Memphis.

Gruner Leads SEC Scoring With 18 Points

Bunky Gruner, Wildcat halfback, holds the position of top man on the totem pole in scoring in the Southeastern Conference with 18 points. Bunky, a Louisville product of du Pont Manual, was hailed as one of the most promising halfbacks ever to come out of Kentucky high schools. He was named to the all-state squad as captain in 1948 and 1949, voted most valuable player in '48 and '49 and polled on the All-Southern team in those same years. As a sophomore, Gruner is fast coming into contention for a starting assignment, and possibly may become one of the outstanding halfbacks in the Southeastern Conference.

Harry Jones Second
Bunky is followed in the scoring department by a teammate, also from Louisville Manual, Harry Jones. Jones, a junior, has scored 16 of Kentucky's 78 points this season to keep Kentucky's name on top in the scoring parade.

Seven players find themselves in the third slot with 12 points. They are Bobby Marlow, Bobby Chiodetti, Bobby Luna, and Corky Tharpe, all of Alabama; Wilson Dillar of Mississippi; Floyd Huggins of Florida, and Wallace Beech of Mississippi State. And in fourth place is Red Lutz of Alabama who has kicked 10 extra points.

SEC Roundup

Five SEC Battles On Week's Schedule

By Bill Podkulski

Southeastern Conference teams chalked up eight wins and one defeat in their inter-sectional clashes last week-end. Considering that most of the teams had easy openers, SEC squads indicated they will be tough to handle in any conference by romping over the opposition thoroughly.

The greatest of the victories was that of Georgia Tech who conquered SMU 21-7 in the upset of the week. Coach Bobby Dodd's Yellow Jackets looked faster and far better than their opponents. Tallying two touchdowns and three conversions was stubby Glenn Turner who ran SMU ragged. Accounting for the other TD's were End Johnny Hicks and Back Leon Hardeman. Hicks scampered 43 yards after latching on to a pass from Quarterback Darrell Crawford, and Hardeman, a sophomore, ran 29 yards for the final score. Tech also displayed a fine freshman line-backer in Larry Morris.

Defenses Are Tight

Four SEC teams held their foes scoreless. They were Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi State, and Ole Miss. Alabama's powerful eleven romped over a weak Delta State team 89-0. Georgia gave a fine showing by defeating George Washington 33-0 on a wet field. Coach Wally Butts' boys made it clear they can be trouble for any team this year.

Mississippi State kept its fancy strategy undercover and stuck to straight football to power a 32-0 victory over Arkansas State. After Mississippi State built up a good lead, Coach Slick Morton sent his reserves into the game to finish up. Ole Miss rolled over frail Memphis State 32-0 and may be capable of doing better than their last years five wins and five losses.

Wade Booted Out

Vanderbilt won 22-7 over Middle Tennessee without their ace Quarterback Bill Wade. Wade was kicked out of the game in the first quarter for slugging. Capitalizing on the breaks of the game, the Commodores' End Bob Hines intercepted a Middle Tennessee lateral and raced 85 yards to pay dirt. Another break

Williams Is Named Lineman Of Week

Paul Williams, left end of the Texas Longhorns, was named "Lineman of the Week" for his sterling play in last Saturday's game with the Wildcats. Williams was the player most responsible for Kentucky's defeat, because by rushing Parilli, he bottled up the bulwark of the Cat's offense.

Williams is 22, married and a senior on the squad. He was named to several All-Southwestern Conference teams in 1950.

Gain Boots Well In Pro Ball

All-American Bob Gain, line star of the past three years for Coach Bryant, is again making a name for himself with the Ottawa professional team. Gain, in converting 38 extra point in 1950, set a time record for scoring by a lineman. So far this season, Bob has scored 16 points which put him fifth in the league in total points.

came when Center Bob Farris recovered a kickoff fumble on the Blue Raiders' 35. Fullback R. C. Allen pounded 20 yards to set up the third score, sewing up the game.

Florida's national collegiate high jump champion, "Papa" Hall ran wild on the gridiron to lead the Gators to a 27-7 victory over the Citadel. Hall sped from nine yards inside the end zone the length of the field for a TD. He also is accredited with 50 and 30 yard sprints.

Louisiana State put on a weak performance in their warm-up tilt with Mississippi Southern by squeaking through 13-6.

Kentucky Looks Strong

Kentucky, registering the only defeat in the SEC, looked far from bad even though losing to Texas 7-6. The Wildcats never let up and pressed the Longhorns till the finish. Texas scored on a 13 yard pass play and Gib Dawson converted for the important point. A Parilli short pass to Bunky Gruner gave UK their score, but miffing the extra point helped Texas retain the streak of never losing a home opener.

Ranking as the top SEC game of the week will be Tennessee vs. Mississippi State. Tennessee, AP pick as No. 1 team, is unleashing its 1951 football schedule against the team who gave them their sole defeat last year. General Bob Neyland has a powerful squad but Mississippi State is capable of repeating its old tricks.

Gators vs. Bulldogs

Attractive games dot the schedule for the second best clash, making it a hard choice. Twice winner Florida against Georgia Tech Saturday at Gainesville may be a wicked battle. The Georgia-North Carolina game also ranks high, seeing as Georgia and Mississippi State are the dark-horse possibilities this year.

Alabama may prove a good show when they meet LSU in Mobile. Miami vs. Tulane should be good. Then again Kentucky pitted against Mississippi in Oxford may make a big splash. Even the Auburn-Vandy game may be exciting as both are

WHAS-TV Features Bryant With Game Films, Analysis On Sunday Afternoon Show

By Stan Portmann

EVERY SUNDAY AFTERNOON at 4 o'clock Louisville's WHAS-TV passes out tickets on the fifty-yard-line, via the medium of TV, to the UK Wildcat game of that Saturday. Once again Kentucky's outstanding television personality, Head Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant is on hand to diagram plays, explain touchdowns, provide a running commentary of the game films, and to point out factors that make a superior football team out of a squad.

The one hour show, m.c.'ed by Phil Sutterfield, who wisely stays in the background, is the most informative for those who know football and those who wish to know. Coach Bryant with the aid of blackboard and chalk, as well as the game films, explains with diagrams the scoring plays and how and why they were scoring plays.

KENTUCKY 6, TEXAS 7: In commenting on the game Bryant is absolutely frank and highly objective sparing neither himself nor the squad for mistakes made. Coach Bryant pointed out the series of plays in which Kentucky had rushed and passed the ball to the Texas 14, third down and four to go. Kentucky used the spread formation with a pitchout and made two yards. On the last down the same play was called losing two yards and the ball went over to the Texans. Bryant commented, "Very bad calls and I called them."

"Both the team and I felt we had the game won," added Bryant. While not alluding, he said the game was lost due to the fact that the squad lacked that hard to explain, intangible something it takes to score when the opportunities are there.

The head coach is prone to be hard on himself by taking the blame for some occurrence on the field. "It made no difference that the ball was not placed on the kicking tee for that important extra point as it would have been blocked anyway by a Texan coming right down the middle, and that's poor coaching," Bryant commented.

While seemingly shouldering more of his share of the blame for the unexplainable events on the field, the coach is more than willing to give credit where credit is due. Mentioned as standouts by Coach Bryant were: Tom Fillion, who averaged almost nine yards per try (78 yards on nine rushes); Emory Clark, who found his holes nicely and did well at safety; Harry Jones played a good offensive game and a bang-up defensive one (Bryant said he had to use Harry more than he should have to plug up the defense); Bunky Gruner, who wisely violated the pass pattern when covered, caught the pass for the only Kentucky T.D.; and the "Kentucky Babe" completed 19 passes for 176 yards and six points. Parilli also had a 34.0 punting average including a 56-yard boot from scrimmage.

Line standouts were Co-captain Doug Moseley, center and line backer, Frank Fuller and Calvin Smith, tackles. While not quite like being at the game, Bryant's TV show is the next best thing. Sundays at 4 p.m.!

CHALK UP PARILLI'S not too accurate long passes to the fact that the Texas defensive right end, Paul Williams (No. 80) was on the Babe's neck like a string of pearls all afternoon. Williams appeared to be a fifth Kentucky back . . . his tackle caused Parilli to fumble an attempted pass which set up the Texas score . . . no one seemed capable of blocking the big man.

DID YOU KNOW that the pass from center which was fumbled in the Texas game was the first for Kentucky since 1947. Chug Rogers, former Wildcat center, was a guest on the bench and almost had apoplexy.

Intra-Mural League Play Begins Soon

Bill McCubbin, director of intra-mural athletics, has set October 2 as the deadline for touch football rosters to be turned in to his office in the Alumni Gym. There is a $3 fee charged all organizations entering. A special invitation is given any independent organizations who would like to participate in the program.

At a meeting last night, representatives of various teams discussed the aspects of the forthcoming intra-mural season. The main topics discussed were the rules, procedure and requirements necessary for participation in the league.

Night Practice Available
The program gets under way next week with practice periods being on the agenda. Any teams wishing to practice under the lights on the intra-mural field should get in touch with Mr. McCubbin in his office. League play begins Oct. 8 at 6 p.m.

All rosters for fall tennis (singles) and fall golf (doubles), must be in by 12 noon today.

Tom Fillion Is Named 'Player Of The Week'

By Don Armstrong

This week marks the first time in two years that the Kernel sports staff has undertaken to choose a "player of the week".

So, with our fingers crossed and our ears to the ground, we cast our lot in favor of Tom Fillion, the Owensboro fullback. Following are some of the reasons why...

Though there were performances by Cat footballers which cannot escape notice (such as Parilli's stadium passing record down there at Austin), we picked Fillion because he provided needed offensive ground punch. Some experts had predicted Kentucky would have to rely on its air power to beat Texas.

Blocking Failed

But when the chips were down, Kentucky failed to support its passing attack with the necessary blocking in the line. Longhorn ends played "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie" with Parilli's neck all afternoon. The Babe just didn't have time to heave those long ones downfield to open up the Texas defense.

Parilli himself showed he was depending on a ground attack to split the vaunted Texas forward wall and pull in the Lone Star defense so Kentucky could pass. He had earlier tried the aerial game, but it didn't pay off when needed the most.

Then, in the third quarter, in

Texas Outgained, But Kentucky Fails On Scoring Drives

The University of Kentucky lost its first major test of the 1951 football season to the University of Texas last Saturday by the slim margin of 7-6.

A second quarter touchdown pass and a good conversion was enough to beat the Wildcats although statistically Coach Bear Bryant's boys had the upper hand throughout. The Wildcats rolled up 21 first downs while holding the Texans to eight but were able to push across only one six-point drive.

A fumble set up the Texas score. Paul Williams, Longhorn end, crashed through the Kentucky line and knocked the ball from the poised arm of All-American quarterback Babe Parilli. A Texan recovery on the Kentucky 28 set the stage for an 11-yard run by halfback Don Barton. T. Jones, Texas quarterback, then tossed a pass to that same Barton who grabbed it on the four yard line and stepped across for the tally.

Dawson Kicks Winning Point

Gib Dawson then booted the ball through the uprights to give the Texans the point which decided the game.

The victory preserved the Longhorn's record of never having lost an opening game on the home field but it was a heartbreaking loss for the Wildcats. Parilli engineered drive after drive into Texas territory but the Cats were able to count only once on a Parilli to Bunky Gruner pass in the third quarter.

A sustained drive, which began on the Kentucky 19, featured the running of Tom Fillion, reserve fullback who looked good on every carry he made, and Harry Jones, scatback who befuddled the big Texas line time and again. Three carries by Fillion moved the ball from the 19 to the Texas 40. Harry Jones ripped to the 27. Fillion picked up one yard. Bunky Gruner plowed to the 22. Harry Jones evaded Longhorn tacklers and moved to the six. Parilli went back to pass, was trapped momentarily, then tossed to Gruner in the end zone.

Kentucky Conversion Fails

On the conversion attempt which followed, Herb Hunt lost control of the pass from center and Harry Jones did not get a chance to boot. Five big Texans were in to smother the ball before Hunt could place it.

The victory was definitely a feather in the cap of the Texans but it did not detract from the all around play of the Bryantmen. A

Fort Knox Tankers Defeat 'Kittens' 6-0

By Marvin Poer

The welcome mat was spread for Coach Charlie McClendon and 33 of his "B" team players this past Saturday night at Fort Knox, Kentucky. The Fort Knox "Tankers" acted out the role of perfect hosts by outscoring the Kentucky "Kittens" 6-0 in their first contest of the 1951 season.

On a sloppy, ill-conditioned field the freshmen footballers fumbled their way to a dull 6-0 defeat at the hands of the Soldiers. Twice within the 20 yard line, the Kittens had scoring opportunities slip through their fingers due to costly fumbles that bogged down their offensive. Due to the inexperience and nervousness of the young squad, the scoring punch just wasn't there when needed.

Long Score Nullified

A 45 yard touchdown run was nullified by a Kentucky penalty. This factor alone was enough to upset the boys and the jitters took over from this point in the game. Game statistics were not available, but Kentucky outplayed the Soldiers in most respects. The passing and running game was superior to that shown by the men from "Gold

Experiments Delay Work On New Practice Field

Five more acres of land have been added to the evergrowing athletic department's domain, but the athletic department's gain is the College of Agriculture's loss.

The subject of attention is the five acre plot located behind the Aeronautical Engineering Building on Rose at Washington Street.

The Board of Trustees announced in a bulletin this fall that this land will be turned over to the athletic department at a time suitable to the Agriculture College, to be used as additional practice fields for the football team.

To Afford Three Fields

Mr. Bernie Shively, athletic director, said the land would be turned into three practice fields to be added to the space already in use. He also stated that it would take an additional month or more beyond the date of receipt to complete the necessary sodding, grading, and fencing.

Dr. Martin Weeks, head of the Agronomy Department, said the transposition of ownership will be made as soon as the Agronomy Department can finish its two year rotation of corn for continuous breeding purposes. As to a positive date for the transaction, Dr. Weeks stated that the land couldn't possibly be cleared before the latter part of November, or at such a time when the experiments in inbred corn can be concluded.

Has Had Many Uses

The land, purchased in 1885, has been used since that time by the Agriculture School. Among the uses have been the breeding of corn, fescue, orchard grass, Bromegrass and white clover. Parts of it have even been used as a pasture for mules.

Dr. Weeks added that, "As yet, no replacement has been made for the land."
